

TAX JUSTICE NETWORK / Testimonials

"TJN has done more than any other organisation to put fiscal justice at the center of the policy agenda. Tax issues should not be left to those who want to escape taxes! Changes will come when more and more citizens of the world take ownership of these matters. TJN is a powerful force acting in this direction."

Thomas Piketty,
Economist, author of Capital in the 21st Century

"Founded at a time when tax was a Cinderella subject, the Tax Justice Network was one of few voices challenging the status quo. Since then, its energy and international reach have greatly magnified its influence as the issues it championed moved up the political agenda."

Vanessa Houlder,
Tax Correspondent,
The Financial Times

"TJN has been instrumental over the past 10 years in making people understand that paying taxes is key to building a civilised society, that tax evasion and tax avoidance must be addressed without complacency. They have significantly contributed to trigger the political support necessary to fight bank and fiduciary secrecy and address the distortions of the international tax system."

Pascal Saint-Amans,
Head of Tax,
OECD

"The tireless campaigners at Tax Justice Network, always armed with the best data and the most incisive analysis, have been absolutely key in shifting the scandal of global tax evasion from the nerdy fringes of public debate to the very centre."

Heather Stewart,
Business Editor,
The Observer

"Amidst an NGO 'scramble' to take the mantle on tax justice issues, the UK-based Tax Justice Network (TJN) emerged as the specialists... TJN's influence comes from its capacity to build shared narratives, provide researched alternatives to mainstream measures and indexes, assert clear policy positions, and engage corporate interlocutors in public debate. Members of TJN have been able to speak to and influence audiences in the activist, scientific, policy, and corporate 'worlds'."

Leonard Seabrooke and Duncan Wigan,
Copenhagen Business School